

HERALD CAMERA-MEN TELL THEIR STORY

Latest Edict

This street costume, consisting of coat of white embroidered satin, blouse embroidered with plain crepe and skirt of plain flat crepe was shown at fashion show of advance modes in New York.

Attended by Thousands, Italy's Queen Mother Is Laid to Rest

Slept in solemn beauty was preliminary funeral of Queen Mother Margherita of Italy, who died in her palace at Bordighera. After services there, body was taken to last resting place in hallowed walls of Pantheon, Rome. Thousands, including Duke de Genoa, late queen's brother, bowed in high mass on mountain side. In this excellent photo royal family is standing in front of altar.

Best Way to Think

When you clench your fists you think better, tests made at the University of Chicago show. Cleone Johnson, co-ed student, is shown taking the tests.

What She Likes

Rosamond Cook, Columbia university student, won $1,000 for essay on "What Women Desire in Dress."

Heir Apparent to Rumanian Throne Is Storm Pivot

Royal tangle left by renunciation of crown by former Crown Prince Carol of Rumania centers around son, Prince Michael, 4 (above, with nurse), and Dr. Miron Christea, Rumanian patriarch, who will play important part in reorganized regime. This photo was taken just after King Ferdinand proclaimed the child heir apparent.

Caught by Camera in Midair

Jelen Mearns, noted swimmer and fancy diver, is shown taking dive into the Aeolian pool at Coral Gables, Fla.

Stage Career

Coincident with announcement in New York of her answer to separation suit of her titled husband, Count Salm, came report that Millicent Rogers Salm, heiress to millions, is looking with favorable eye toward stage career.

Under Shadow of His Goal

The ashes of Andy Smith, University of California coach, will lie forever on gridiron of Memorial stadium, Berkeley, field of his successes. Lieut. McGowan (in cockpit) flying low cast the ashes over field.

Baby Tossed From Flames

First real thrill came for Robert Mowrey, 8 months old, when he was thrown twenty-five feet from North Braddock, Pa., apartment building, which was a mass of flames. The infant landed on the sidewalk after his fall had been broken by fireman. He was only slightly hurt. Robert is shown in arms of aunt, Mrs. Earl Phelps.

Fatally Shot

The late Sergt. Philip Tully

Dorothea Pegran

Fatally wounded, Sergt. Philip Tully charged Dorothea Pegran, 23, shot him, then herself, in fit of jealousy at New Castle, Pa. She'll recover.

Kiddies Had Good Time Playing in Inundated Streets

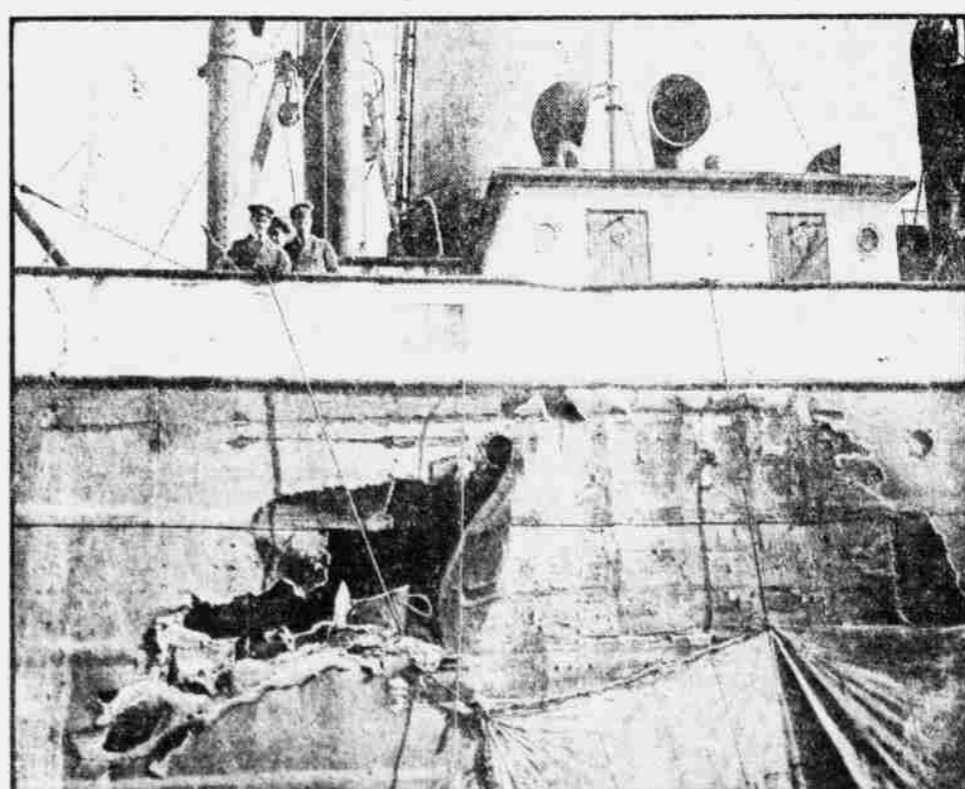

Autos were out of date for several days in towns near Washington, D. C., where big rains sent rivers swelling. Many cars were stalled in this section of Bladensburg, Md. Youngsters had gobs of fun sailing on them.

First Lady's Smile on Paper

The famous Spanish artist, Rafael Sanchez Yago (above, with latest work), who is in this country doing notables as a guest of the Spanish ambassador, caught Mrs. Coolidge's charming smile and put it on paper. The First Lady gave the young artist three sittings.

Freighter, Carrying Sulphur for Matches, Badly Scratched

Freighter Margaret, loaded with sulphur for matches, lit on the Manchester Merchant in Delaware river, near Philadelphia, Pa. Result was this hole in Merchant's side. Margaret's bow was crushed by collision in fog, but sulphur was undisturbed. No one was hurt.

Plenty of Applesauce

Broken axle made this stew out of five freight cars loaded with apples on Oregon railroad. No lives were lost, but the apples—what a mess!